ITHACA, N.Y. – Junior Megan Kelley (Newburgh/Wallkill) set a new school record in the pole vault to highlight Cortland's performances at the season-opening Cornell Relays.

Kelley cleared 10' 8", breaking the school mark by 1.25". Her sixth-place height is an ECAC Division III Championship qualifier and is just two inches shy of NCAA provisional qualifying standards. Sophomore Tiffany Lancaster (Clifton Park/Shenendehowa) also qualified for the ECAC Championships with an eighth-place height of 10' 2".

Junior Andrea Gentile (Middletown/Minisink Valley) finished third in the 60-meter hurdles. She was clocked at 9.43 seconds in prelims and 9.48 seconds in the finals. Her times qualify her for the ECAC's in the 55-meter hurdles.

Freshman Ashleigh Rajkowski (Tribes Hill/Fonda-Fultonville) barely missed qualifying for the NCAA Division III Championships in the triple jump in her first collegiate meet. Her fifth-place distance of 36' 7" is an ECAC qualifier and is 1.25" shy of NCAA provisional standards. Rajkowski was also fourth in the long jump with an ECAC-qualifying distance of 17' 1.25".
