e-mail: asap@cortland.edu
www.cortland.edu/asap/

The Academic Support and Achievement Program (ASAP) helps students learn how they learn best. ASAP staff provide academic support to students of all ability and achievement levels in writing, reading, math and study skills. Students may use the services through self-referral or referral by an advisor, faculty member or dean. They may take advantage of professional staff and professionally trained peers to receive one-on-one instruction, small group instruction, workshops and supplemental instruction attached to challenging courses. Supplemental instruction is listed as "SI" in the course schedule. Students who have regularly attended ASAP have developed increased confidence in their abilities, have acquired independent learning skills, and have shown marked improvement in their grade point averages.

Athletic Facilities

Park Center, Room E-302
(607) 753-4953

The Park Center is the focal point for the College's athletic program. Housed in the building are the Olympic-sized Holsten Pool, Corey Gymnasium, the Alumni Arena for ice hockey, a gymnastics arena, a wrestling room, two weight training rooms, two ballroom dance studios and a modern, fully equipped athletic training facility.

Cortland student athletes also enjoy the use of the Lusk Field House with its tartan-textured track; Wallace Field for baseball; Davis Field for football, lacrosse and outdoor track; lighted Holloway Field for soccer; a new softball stadium; and 50 acres of athletic fields, some of them lighted.

In April 2000, construction began on a new on-campus stadium featuring two artificial turf fields. One field will seat approximately 6,500 spectators, the other approximately 1,500. The Cortland football, field hockey, men's and women's lacrosse and men's and women's track and field teams are among those who will utilize the new facility, which is expected to be completed in 2002.

More information about the athletic facilities can be found on page 297 of this catalog under the Recreational Sports Department.

COLLEGE STORE

The College Store, located in Neubig Hall, carries books required for all courses at SUNY Cortland, gifts, clothing, computers, software, personal care products, class rings, school supplies, greeting cards, New York Times best sellers and much more. The store also makes available a "Pre-Pack Service," which allows students to order their textbooks in advance and have them waiting for pick-up.

DINING SERVICES

The Auxiliary Services Corporation (ASC) operates the College's dining services. ASC prides itself on providing students with excellent service and exceptional value in a caring and professional manner, meeting their needs, exceeding their expectations, enhancing the quality of their campus living experience and supporting their educational goals.

All on-campus students are required by College policy to participate in a dining plan. A student is automatically enrolled in a dining plan once tuition is paid. ASC offers a variety of options that suit differing lifestyles, personal situations, and dietary and consumption patterns.

Every ASC dining facility offers a la carte service and is accessed with the SUNY Cortland I.D. card. Nine unique dining venues are conveniently located throughout campus with hours of service that extend from 7:30 a.m. until midnight, giving students and staff a multitude of choices about where and when to eat.

Dining plans at SUNY Cortland are adapted to a points system. Points, instead of dollars, are the exchange currency for all qualified dining plan transactions. This system enables ASC to package benefits for dining plan customers that are not available to cash customers, such as lowered pricing.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

All students who register for courses at SUNY Cortland are required to have an I.D. card. To obtain the I.D. card, students must be registered and present photo identification. The SUNY Cortland I.D. is a multi-functional, video-imaged card with electronic verification capability. The I.D. provides online access for food service, vending, library, and health services on campus. Other options will be added in the future.

The SUNY Cortland I.D. card is issued by Auxiliary Services Corporation in Neubig Hall. A $5 fee is charged for the initial card. The fee to replace a lost or stolen card is $10. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Extended service hours are offered during the first week of each semester.

This office also serves as a primary resource for students of color and strives to ensure that their academic, personal, and social needs are fulfilled during their tenure at the College.

The Multicultural Affairs Office sponsors The Challenge for Success Program to honor the outstanding achievements of ethnic minority students and the Kente Cloth ceremony for graduating ethnic minority seniors to symbolize the importance of family support.

Outdoor Education Facilities

SUNY Cortland has recognized the value of outdoor and environmental education since the mid-1930s when it began to require physical education students to participate in two-week camping programs as part of their formal training. Opportunities for study and field work in the outdoors have expanded greatly since that time and many of Cortland's academic departments now make use of three adjunct campuses which the College has developed to support outdoor and environmental education programs.

Outdoor Education Centers at Raquette Lake

Jack C. Sheltmire, Director
P.O. Box 99, Raquette Lake, NY 13436
(315) 354-4784

Antlers: Located on the west side of Raquette Lake, Antlers serves both as a docking area for those going to Camp Huntington and as a site for conferences and classes. A paved road from Route 28 leads to Antlers.

Camp Huntington: Camp Huntington provides an outstanding natural setting for students to examine most aspects of the environment. The camp's forests, bogs and ponds serve as natural laboratories for courses in the biological sciences. Raquette Lake provides an elaborate research area in which students examine the unpolluted waters.

Physical education and recreation students make extensive use of the Outdoor Education Centers in required and elective courses. Students from all disciplines enjoy opportunities at the Centers to learn how to use the outdoors as a classroom for academic subjects and to learn to develop an appreciation for the outdoor environment.

Hoxie Gorge

R. Lawrence Klotz, Biological Sciences Department
Bowers Hall, Room 240
(607) 753-2715

Hoxie Gorge is a 169-acre natural area close to the main campus. It provides many different environments each with a unique set of characteristics that warrant careful study by the biologist or geologist, or treat the casual visitor with a pleasant visual experience. The natural environments include pristine streams running through the gorge area, mature woodlands and old fields. The McDermott Nature Trail provides access to these areas.

Hoxie Gorge provides SUNY Cortland students, faculty and staff with the opportunity for class and individual study, research and enjoyment of the natural environment. Located only seven miles from campus, Hoxie Gorge is easily visited during a two or three hour class period. Approximately 1,000 students per year are involved in academic field study there.

Faculty members and a number of their students have utilized Hoxie Gorge extensively for research purposes. This research has attracted over $500,000 in grants and resulted in approximately 30 journal publications. The research topics include insect chemical ecology and behavior, taxonomy of mushrooms, conservation biology of amphibians, pollination biology of flowering plants, and nutrient cycling in streams.

Brauer Memorial Geologic Field Station

Christopher McRoberts, Geology Department
Bowers Hall, Room 348
(607) 753-2815

SUNY Cortland's Brauer Memorial Field Research Station is the only major geological facility in State University of New York. It is located in the town of Bethlehem, eight miles south of Albany and near the famed Helderberg Escarpment — an area known to geologists as a classic region of fossiliferous limestone and shale formations of the Devonian age.

A main building and bunkhouse on the 33-acre tract provide classroom, dining and sleeping accommodations for approximately 36 students. This facility is used by the College's Geology Department as a base for studies of the Catskill Mountains, mid-Hudson Valley and Taconic Range, which offer sections of Lower and Middle Paleozoic carbonate and terrigenous rocks, structurally complex and metamorphic terranes, and widespread Pleistocene landforms and deposits.

The Adirondacks and Berkshires also are accessible from Brauer for field trips and provide opportunities for examining igneous and high-grade metamorphic rocks of the Precambrian age. The Brauer Field Station is available for use by other educational institutions and professional organizations. In addition to activities sponsored by the College's admissions and alumni affairs offices, SUNY Cortland and other institutions have used this facility for programs in biology, foreign language, and geology.

Residential Services

OFFICE

The Residential Services Office is responsible for the administration of the College's residence halls and apartments. All of the residential facilities are co-educational and are staffed by professional residence hall directors or complex coordinators as well as paraprofessional student staff.

SUNY Cortland places an emphasis on the residential experience. All freshmen, sophomores and transfer students are required to live on campus for the entire academic year. Students requesting to continue to live on campus beyond the sophomore year will be accommodated as space is available in college residence halls or
