

Celebrating Scholarly Publication and Creative Writing

A joint project of the Faculty Development Committee & Memorial Library

The Faculty Development Committee, with the full support of President Erik J. Bitterbaum and Provost Elizabeth Davis-Russell, seeks to develop a special collection in Memorial Library comprising published books, scholarly articles, and creative writing by the SUNY Cortland faculty (full- and part-time) and staff. The FDC requests that one copy of each book (with original dust jacket) and an off-print of each article or creative work be donated to the Library. The published work will be catalogued and then housed in a distinctive section of the Library. The collection will serve as a permanent archive of the achievements of SUNY Cortland faculty.

Publications may be delivered to the office of Gail Wood, Director of Libraries. Each contribution is tax deductible, and a letter thanking you for your contribution will be sent. If the book or textbook is already owned by Memorial Library and is used for course assignments, the Library will try to purchase a second copy. The Library will also assist in providing a copy of the more costly publications.
