JUDY K.C. BENTLEY

Welcome to the second issue of Social Advocacy and Systems Change [1(2), 2009].

I am pleased to introduce our Book Review Editor Joseph M. Rayle, and our Technology Editor Christine Widdall. Their significant contributions to this issue are evident in the content and format.

Another “first” for SASC is our Book Review Podcast. It represents a step forward in universal design and accessibility, which we plan to expand upon in the future.

I am, as always, grateful for the teachers, scholars, students and artists who have shared their work and their personal stories with us. It is an honor to be trusted with the voices of our contributing authors and cartoonists.

We are now accepting submissions for our SPRING/SUMMER 2009 Issue, and we welcome your participation.
