SUNY Cortland’s Adam Haas, Greg Steward Receive Weekly Football Honors

SUNY Cortland sophomore defensive tackle Adam Haas (East Aurora/St. Francis) and freshman cornerback Greg Steward (Elmont/Sewanhaka) have been honored for their performances during Cortland’s 17-14 loss to The College of New Jersey on Sept. 11.

Steward was named the New Jersey Athletic Conference (NJAC) Defensive Rookie of the Week. In his second collegiate game, Steward recorded eight tackles, six solo, and a pass breakup. One of his tackles was for lost yardage.

Haas was chosen to the D3Football.com national “Team of the Week.” One of three defensive linemen honored, Haas made eight tackles, seven solo, and returned a fumble 21 yards for a touchdown. He registered four tackles for 18 yards of losses, including two quarterback sacks.

Cortland (0-2, 0-1 NJAC) completes a three-game homestand this Saturday as it hosts Kean University in an NJAC matchup.
