SUNY Cortland Women's Gymnastics
at ECAC Div. III Championships
Saturday, March 20, 2004; Ithaca College; Ithaca, N.Y.

FINAL SCORES: Brockport 188.125, Cortland 187.125, Ithaca 186.95, Ursinus 186.15, Springfield 180.70, MIT 180.325, Rhode Island College 177.85, Wilson 166.725

ITHACA, N.Y. – Cortland’s attempt at a third straight Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Division III title fell just short as the Red Dragons finished second out of eight teams at the championship meet at Ithaca College.

Brockport won its first-ever ECAC crown with a score of 188.125, followed by Cortland at 187.125 and Ithaca with 186.95. Ursinus was also close to the top finishers with a fourth-place score of 186.15.

Brockport, Cortland, Ithaca and MIT are tentatively scheduled to represent the East region at the eight-team National Collegiate Gymnastics Association (NCGA) Division III Championships April 2-3 at MIT in Cambridge, Mass. MIT receives an automatic bid to nationals as the host school. The other three teams, along with individual qualifiers, will be verified by the NCGA and announced on Sunday.

Cortland earned seven All-ECAC honors, which go to the top six finishers in each event. Senior Danin Squires (Syracuse/Solvay) placed second on uneven bars (9.575) and was fifth in the all-around (37.475). Sophomore Lindsey Marranca (Kenmore/Kenmore West) was second on floor exercise (9.65) and tied for sixth on vault (9.425). In addition, junior Janelle Domaradzki (Buffalo/Niagara-Wheatfield) finished second on balance beam (9.70), junior Kristen Marzello (Buffalo/Orchard Park) tied for fourth on vault (9.475) and junior Colleen Shanahan (Williamsville/Williamsville East) tied for fifth on uneven bars (9.50).

Brockport’s Carrie Santore won the all-around (38.40), placing in the top six in all four events. She won floor exercise (9.775) and Ursinus’ Jessica Cowden won uneven bars (9.65). Ithaca had two individual champions – Kelly Stevison won vault (9.525) and Stephanie Smith captured balance beam (9.725).
