CORTLAND'S 15th ANNUAL BASKETBALL COACHES CLINIC SET FOR OCT. 26

The 15th annual SUNY Cortland Red Dragon Basketball Clinic, open to men's and women's coaches on all levels, will be held on Sunday, Oct. 26, from 12:30 to 5 p.m. at Cortland's Whitney T. Corey Gymnasium.

The cost of the clinic is $30 if pre-registered by mail or $35 at the door. For a registration form or for more information, call Tom Spanbauer at (607) 753-4906.

Clinic presenters are:

* Dick Bihr, head men's basketball coach at Buffalo State College, discussing "Teaching the Motion Offense." A six-time SUNYAC Coach of the Year, Bihr led the Bengals to the 2003 NCAA Division III playoffs.

* Tom Murphy, Hamilton College's head basketball coach, presenting "Developing an Offensive Philosophy." Murphy was the 2002-03 East Region Coach of the Year and is a member of the New York State Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

* Helen Haarlander, an ATC and CSCS certified strength and conditioning specialist, talking about “Conditioning and Strength Training for the High School Athlete.”

* Tom Spanbauer, SUNY Cortland’s head men’s basketball coach, presenting “Thoughts to Help You Prepare for the Season.” Spanbauer has led Cortland to six post-season appearances, including three NCAA Division III tournaments, in eight years at the College. He is a three-time SUNYAC Coach of the Year selection.

* A special presentation by ECAC official Jim Luchsinger on “2003-04 Rule Changes and Interpretations.”
