Season Preview

With 10 returning players from last year's ECAC Upstate New York Tournament team, along with a few notable additions, the Cortland men's basketball team has big things in mind for 2005-06. With a solid core of returning veterans off an 18-win season in 2004-05, 11th-year Head Coach Tom Spanbauer and his Red Dragons have set the bar high for loftier accomplishments this season.

Senior co-captains Frank Ranieri and Simon Skrelja head up the list of versatile frontcourt players the Red Dragons have in the fold for 2005-06. Both have shown a tremendous amount of leadership and consistency in their three years so far, and both will be counted on for strong senior campaigns. Ranieri averaged 10.4 points and 4.1 rebounds per game, also adding 41 assists, good for second on the team. He is also very close to eclipsing the 1,000-point plateau for his Cortland career. Skrelja is an extremely athletic wingman, who also is strong around the basket. He became a force late in the year for the Red Dragons, as he finished as the team’s leading rebounder with 6.2 per game. Combined with 6.2 points per game, 21 blocked shots, and 41 steals, Skrelja is a player who does it all.

Also in the frontcourt are two solid post-up options who will look to provide an inside presence for the Red Dragons. Six-foot-three junior Rod Headley started all 28 games as a sophomore, averaging 9.9 points and 4.8 rebounds per game. An excellent offensive rebounder, as well as a gifted athlete, Headley can create for himself both back-to-the-basket and facing up his defender. Six-foot-six senior transfer Scott Taggart joins Cortland for his first campaign with the Red Dragons and will provide the team with a rugged inside presence. He will also supply a tremendous amount of experience in the post, as well as veteran leadership.

In the backcourt, junior Dave Jutton has established himself as one of the top guards in the SUNYAC over his first two seasons. He has started every one of his 56 games played and last year averaged 10.4 points and 2.1 rebounds, while shooting 67-of-173 (38.7%) from behind the arc. Junior Dave Maggiacomo gives the Red Dragons another dangerous three-point dimension, as he returns as Cortland’s leader in three-point percentage (47.8). Maggiacomo has also worked extremely hard in the off-season and figures to be a steady contributor for Cortland throughout the season.

With two-year starting point guard Justin O’Garrow being the only Red Dragon who graduated from last year’s squad, Cortland will have a new primary ball handler to start the 2005-06 season. Sophomores Derrick Fish and Mark Schaller, along with junior transfer Elbert Nalls, all will look to compete for minutes at the open position. Fish, who saw action in 20 games last season and had an excellent assist-to-turnover ratio, has good size at the one-guard spot. Schaller provides the Red Dragons with a smaller, quicker point guard who also has a nice touch from three-point range. Nalls, who played at Niagara County Community College for two seasons, is an extremely athletic player, who will provide the Red Dragons with defensive tenacity and excellent court vision.

Also in the backcourt, freshman guard Carson Niehoff will look to make an immediate contribution this season. He has shown the Red Dragon coaching staff the ability to score from all areas of the floor, along with good defensive potential for his size (6-4). Sophomore Michael Jankiewicz has good size as well at 6-5 and is a proven shooter from three-point range. Sophomore Bobby O’Connell returns to the squad after being a student-assistant coach last season. Freshman Juan Mioian brings some athleticism and speed, along with a very good shooting touch, to the Red Dragons.

Returning in the backcourt, sophomore Quentin Merritt will look to pick up where he left off last season, turning in a very consistent freshman campaign. A forward who can fill both the three and four spots, Merritt has improved his conditioning in the off-season, along with being one of Cortland’s more intense and emotional leaders. Sophomore center Joe Sargent returns as well for the Red Dragons and, at 6-8 and 260 pounds, is an intimidating presence down low. In addition to his size, he also brings a soft touch from 15 feet on the offensive end. Freshman Kevin Cuddahue rounds out the Cortland frontcourt with good strength, outstanding defensive ability and improving offensive skills.

With a nice mix of returning veterans and talented newcomers, all the pieces seem to be in place for a successful 2005-06 season. With the goals of a SUNYAC championship and an NCAA tournament berth, the Red Dragons have set their sights sky high.
Coaching Staff

Tom Spanbauer
Head Coach

Spanbauer has been named the State University of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC) “Coach of the Year” three times, most recently in 2001 when he guided the Red Dragons to a 21-7 record, the SUNYAC regular-season title and an ECAC Upstate New York tournament appearance. He also won the award in 1997 and 1999.

In the 1999-2000 season, the Red Dragons enjoyed a school-best 24-5 season that featured a school-record 18-game winning streak. They were SUNYAC tournament and regular-season champions. In 1998-99, Spanbauer's squad went 23-7 and captured SUNYAC regular-season honors.

Cortland has played in the post-season nine times since Spanbauer's arrival. The Red Dragons qualified for the ECAC Division III playoffs in both 2004-05 (18-10 record) and 2003-04 (17-11). His squad was 13-13 in 1997-98, appearing in the ECAC playoffs and winning their fourth consecutive SUNYAC Eastern Division title. In 1996-97, Spanbauer led Cortland to a 19-9 record and the program’s first-ever NCAA playoff appearance. In his inaugural season at the helm in 1995-96, the Red Dragons posted a 16-12 record and advanced to the finals of the eight-team ECAC tournament for the first time in school history.

"Our program has a focus on the holistic development of the student-athlete, and we continually strive to expose our players to the best athletic and academic opportunities available at the Division III level," said Spanbauer. “As a result of this focus, many of our players have been recognized through college, regional and national awards and scholarships.”

Prior to his arrival at Cortland, Spanbauer was the head coach at Alfred University for one year and an assistant at Alfred for five seasons. His 1994-95 Saxon unit posted a 12-13 record, the best at the school in five years. Spanbauer also handled athletic administrative and physical education teaching duties at Alfred. He was the Saxons’ head men’s tennis coach for four years and women’s tennis coach for one year. He currently teaches in SUNY Cortland’s physical education department.

A Niagara Falls, N.Y., native, Spanbauer was a three-sport standout at Niagara Catholic High School. He graduated from Cortland in 1983 with a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education and earned a master’s degree in 1986 at the College while serving as an assistant varsity and head junior varsity coach. Spanbauer was a four-year letterwinner, two-time team captain and two-time All-SUNYAC selection with the Red Dragons’ basketball squad. He finished with 1,106 career points, including a 427-point effort during an All-ECAC and All-State senior season.

Prior to his coaching at Alfred, Spanbauer served as the freshman basketball coach at Albany High School from 1986 to 1988 and as an assistant basketball coach at the University at Albany from 1986 to 1989. He has also been involved with basketball at the Empire State Games, both as a player (Adirondack Region, 1988, and Western Region, 1990), assistant coach (Western Region 1993-96, including gold medal teams in 1994 and 1995) and head coach (Central Region, 1997-99). In addition, Spanbauer has served as the director of the High Five All-America summer basketball camp in Liverpool, England, and currently is the director of the Red Dragon Basketball Camp.

David Muchnick
Assistant Coach

David Muchnick joins the Cortland coaching staff for the 2005-06 season. Muchnick is a 2005 graduate of SUNY Geneseo, where he played guard for four seasons. As a senior captain, he averaged five points per game and was second on the team with 32 three-pointers as a starting guard. He received the team's James A. Divico Memorial Award for character, leadership and team play.

A native of Oceanside, N.Y., Muchnick graduated from Oceanside High School in 2001. A captain as a senior, he earned all-conference and honorable mention all-county honors. He established Oceanside records for three-point field goals made in a game (8), season (64) and career (110). Muchnick also played volleyball at Oceanside, earning all-conference recognition and serving as a team captain. He served as Oceanside’s summer league varsity basketball coach in 2004 and 2005 and is a coaching veteran of numerous basketball camps.

Muchnick earned a bachelor’s degree in communications from Geneseo. He logged more than 300 hours of game management duties and served as public address announcer during the fall and spring athletic seasons.

Dr. Bill Williams
Assistant Coach

Dr. Bill Williams returns to the Cortland coaching staff in 2005-06 after a three-year hiatus. Williams served as an assistant coach for the Red Dragons from 1991-2002. He was also Cortland’s head coach from 1981-89 and was the 1983 SUNYAC “Coach of the Year” after leading the Red Dragons to a 16-7 mark.

Williams starred on the hardwood for the Red Dragons from 1966-69, registering 910 career points and earning first team All-SUNYAC honors as a senior. He returned to the College as an assistant coach in 1979 and served in that role for two years before becoming head coach.

Williams holds a master’s degree from Elmira College and a Ph.D. from the SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry. He and his wife, Phyllis, have three sons: Seth, Chris and Scott.

About SUNY Cortland

Located atop one of the rolling hills in central New York’s “City of Seven Valleys,” the State University of New York College at Cortland was founded in 1868 as the Cortland Normal School, which included among its earliest students inventor and industrialist Elmer A. Sperry of Sperry-Rand Corp. fame.

Over the decades, the campus expanded and in 1941, by an act of legislature and the Board of Regents, the institution officially became a four-year college providing courses leading to the bachelor’s degree. In 1948, Cortland was a founding member of the State University of New York.

Today, approximately 7,500 students are pursuing degrees within the College’s three academic divisions — arts and sciences, professional studies and the school of education. Twenty-three departments with a faculty of more than 400 offer the SUNY Cortland student body 70 majors and 44 minors from which to choose.

The College’s main campus covers 191 acres and includes 31 traditional and modern buildings. Fifteen of these structures are residence halls providing on-campus housing for approximately 3,000 students. Cortland also operates its Outdoor Education Center at Raquette Lake in the Adirondacks, the Hoxie Gorge Nature Preserve outside Cortland, and the Brauer Memorial Geological Field Station on the Helderberg Escarpment near Albany.

At Cortland, athletics are viewed as having an important role in the educational mission of the College. During the fall, winter and spring seasons, Cortland participates in 25 intercollegiate sports — 14 women’s and 11 men’s — in an attempt to provide a broad program which meets the needs, interests and abilities of its students.

The Cortland athletic program placed 13th nationally out of 434 colleges and universities in the 2004-05 all-sport United States Sports Academy Directors’ Cup Division III standings. The award was formerly known as the Sears Directors’ Cup from 1995-2002 and the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors’ Cup in the 2002-03 school year. Cortland is the only New York school and one of only six nationwide to finish in the top 20 each of the last 10 years. Since 1989, the Red Dragons have captured 12 NCAA Division III team titles.

The College offers its student-athletes excellent athletic facilities. The newly-constructed on-campus stadium features two artificial turf fields. One field seats 6,500 spectators, the other 1,500. The Cortland football, field hockey, men’s and women’s soccer, men’s and women’s lacrosse and men’s and women’s track and field teams are among those who utilize the facility, which the New York Times called “…a new stadium worthy of a major university power.”

The Bessie L. Park Physical Education and Recreation Center, opened in 1973, features the Whitney T. Corey Gymnasium with a 3,500 seating capacity; the Olympic-sized Harriet Holsten swimming pool with gallery seating for 1,500; the Alumni Ice Arena, a facility which can accommodate 2,500 spectators; a 500-seat gymnastics arena, racquetball and squash courts, a wrestling room, modern athletic training facilities and the state-of-the-art Francis Woods Fitness Facility.

Nearby Clayton R. Lusk Field House, with its tartan-textured surface, is home for the indoor track teams, varsity practice sessions and recreational activities. Cortland’s soccer teams play on T. Fred “Prof” Holloway Field, which has lights for night contests and newly installed bleachers. The College also has 22 outdoor tennis courts and two outdoor basketball courts and boasts Robert H. Wallace Field (baseball) and Dragon Field (softball) as part of its 51 acres of athletic fields.
