Cortland’s Andrea Venditti Named SUNYAC and ECAC Women’s Lacrosse Player of the Week

SUNY Cortland junior attacker Andrea Venditti (Baldwinville/C.W. Baker) has been selected as both the State University of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC) and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) Division III Women’s Lacrosse Player of the Week for the week ending March 19. The ECAC award covers a region spanning more than 180 Division III schools in the East.

Venditti recorded career-highs of six goals and seven total points in Cortland’s season-opening 15-8 win versus Rochester last Wednesday in West Palm Beach, Fla. Two days later, she scored a team-high five goals in the Red Dragons’ 14-1 victory over Keene State (N.H.), also in Florida.

Venditti currently leads Cortland with 11 goals and 12 total points in two contests. The Red Dragons are ranked sixth nationally in the latest Intercollegiate Women’s Lacrosse Coaches Association (IWLCA) Division III poll.
