Season Preview

The 2003-04 season was the best year for Cortland wrestling in nearly a decade. The Red Dragons were one dual victory away from tying the school record of 17 in a season and one match away from a win that would have placed them in the top eight at the National Duals. Cortland finished second at the Empire Conference Qualifiers and had three individual champions. Then, at the NCAA Division III Championships in Iowa, the Red Dragons’ four qualifiers put in a tremendous effort, earning three All-America honors and a 10th-place finish.

Junior Jason Chase has 56 career wins and qualified for the 2004 NCAA Division III Championships.

Junior captain Jason Peck led the squad with 40 wins and a runnerup finish at nationals to earn All-America honors for the second straight season at 125 pounds. Peck enters this season with 78 wins and has the school record of 108 career wins clearly in his sites. Senior captain Brent Rider added a second All-America honor to his accomplishments last season when he finished sixth nationally at 157 pounds. Cortland’s third All-American was Ben Locke, who placed eighth at 184 pounds. Junior captain Jason Chase was a conference runnerup and a wild card selection at nationals, where he finished 2-2 and one win away from placing. Peck, Rider and Locke each earned conference titles in 2004.

The outlook for the 2004-05 season in an exciting one. Third-year head coach Brad Bruhn says of the squad, “Although we lost two important wrestlers from last year’s team due to graduation, we finally have some upperclassmen to lend some leadership to the team. And we have another group of youngsters who are hungry to compete. We’ll be very strong in the lower and middle weights and young and enthusiastic in the upper weights.”

Graduate assistant coach Cory Christensen joins the staff of Bruhn, who oversees the lower weights, and fifth-year assistant coach Jason Reynolds, who takes care of the upper weights. Christensen wrestled at the University of Iowa for three seasons before winning a Division III individual championship at Simpson College (Iowa) in 1998. He’ll be in charge of developing the middleweights and will definitely add tremendous insight to the staff.

Cortland is strong in talent but thin in numbers at 125 pounds. Peck will obviously earn most of the work at this weight. He’s proven that he’s tough as nails and is also the Red Dragons’ only wrestler to easily make the weight. Look for freshman Matt Sganga, who comes into the season with solid credentials, to see some action later in the season at this weight.

At 133 pounds, the Red Dragons will have Sganga if he doesn’t drop to 125.

The 141-pound weight class could be very interesting this season. Chase returns on a mission, looking to take that next step and earn All-America honors this season. He’s one of the hardest workers head coach Bruhn has seen and is constantly improving. Junior Jack Holmgren, who was a starter two years ago, hopes to shake off a slow sophomore season and earn some time on the mat.

The Red Dragons have a number of quality wrestlers at 149 pounds. Since Jaret Misener, who has won 41 matches in his first two seasons, is taking the year off to strengthen his knee, the lineup will feature three new faces, plus Holmgren, battling to take the open spot. Sophomore junior college transfer John Franchi has looked very tough in the wrestling room so far. Throw in freshman state placer Bryan Welsh and redshirt freshman Eric Sciutto and the weight class is very solid.

Rider enters his senior season with one goal in mind—a national title at 157 pounds. He’s demonstrated the willingness to do whatever it takes to get the job done and his talent should put him right in the mix. Freshman Josh Eagan will see some time at this weight as he gains experience in the college ranks. Also look for sophomore Troy Tooley and freshman Brian Costello to see some time here or up at 165 pounds.

A few guys will battle for the 165-pound spot. Senior captain Trevor Comeau, who came back to wrestling last year after a few years out of the sport, is trying hard to make up for lost time. He’s a team player who will do anything to help the team. He actually wrestled in the 197-pound weight class in last season’s conference qualifiers and placed fourth. Add a good tough youngster in Treavor LeBlanc, and look for the wrestling room to rumble.

Sophomore Stef Sair finished last season with a flurry at 174 pounds. He finished second at the conference qualifiers, losing a last-second nail biter in the finals. Sair, who is an all-conference safety on the football team, gets a late start in the wrestling room but looks to round into shape sooner this season.

With an All-American choosing not to return, the 184-pound weight class is up for grabs. Freshman Mark Maglione should see most of the action here with junior Mike McQuillan also in the mix.

The team is young at 197 this season. Look for freshman Jeff Standish, a state placer in high school last year, and sophomore Matt Eldredge to split time at this weight. Both should gain experience this year and see some time. Also look for junior Will Lance to possible contribute during the second semester.

Sophomore Mike Karbowiak came on strong at the end of last year to finish as the conference runnerup at heavyweight. He continues to get stronger and shows no effects of a high school injury that almost ended his career. Expect Karbowiak to work himself even harder in 2004-05. Freshman Mike Sganga will push Karbowiak and solidify the heavyweight spot.

Junior Jason Peck is a two-time All-American at 125 pounds and finished as the national runnerup in 2004.
Coaching Staff

Brad Bruhn
Head Coach

Brad Bruhn enters his third season as Cortland’s wrestling coach in 2004-05. In his first season, he led the Red Dragons to a 13-9 dual-match record and a tie for 25th place at the NCAA Division III Championships.

Last season, the Red Dragons posted a 16-9 dual-match record and placed 10th at the NCAA Division III Championships, the team’s highest showing since 1995-96. The 16 wins tied for the second-most in school history, and the Red Dragons had three All-Americans for the first time since the 1995-96 season.

Prior to his arrival at Cortland, Bruhn was the assistant wrestling coach at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse during the 1997-98, 2000-01 and 2001-02 seasons. In that time, the wrestling teams placed third, second and fourth, respectively, at the Division III Championships. Bruhn has also served as the head wrestling coach at Centaurus High School (Colo.), leading the squad to a second-place finish at the state championships. He had five wrestlers earn all-state honors and one claim a state title.

Bruhn is a 1997 graduate of the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education Teaching with an emphasis in Coaching Competitive Athletics. In 2002, he earned his Masters of Science in Exercise and Sports-Physical Education Teaching from Wisconsin-La Crosse.

He was a three-time National Wrestling Coaches Association (NWCA) Scholar All-American and earned All-America honors at 126 pounds in 1995. During his career at Wisconsin-La Crosse, Bruhn was named Most Valuable Freshman, Most Improved Wrestler, team captain and was crowned a Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WIAC) champion. He was also named to the Dean’s List five times.

Born in Cadott, Wis., Bruhn attended Cadott High School, graduating in 1992. He competed in wrestling and track and field for four years.

Jason Reynolds

Jason Reynolds begins his fifth year as a member of the Cortland wrestling coaching staff after having wrestled for the Red Dragons in the heavyweight division from 1994-99. A 1999 graduate of Cortland with a bachelor’s degree in Elementary Education, Reynolds registered a 28-9 career record with seven pins, including a 9-2 record as a freshman and a 15-5 mark in his second season.

A 1994 graduate of Walton Central, Reynolds lettered in wrestling, football and baseball. He finished second in the state at 215 pounds his senior year and won two gold medals at the 1993 Empire State Games.

Cory Christensen
Graduate Assistant Coach

Cory Christensen joins Brad Bruhn’s staff as a graduate assistant coach for the 2004-05 season. Prior to Cortland, Christensen was the head wrestling coach and an assistant football coach at Williamsburg and Midland High Schools in Iowa.

Christensen earned a bachelor’s degree in Education in 1998 from Simpson College (Iowa). While at Simpson, he was a two-time conference champion and won an individual national title his senior year in wrestling. Christensen also earned All-America honors in football as a senior. He attended the University of Iowa from 1993-96, where he was a member of the wrestling team.

A native of Winterset, Iowa, Christensen was a three-time state champion in wrestling and an all-state selection in football and baseball at Winterset Community Schools.

The 2004-05 Cortland Wrestling Guide was written in part by head coach Brad Bruhn and by Cortland Associate SID Dan Surdam. Action photography (except Mike Yanosik and Mike Bucci) and team photo by Dari Zehr Photography. The guide was printed by Graphics Plus Printing of Cortland.
Located atop one of the rolling hills in central New York’s “City of Seven Valleys,” the State University of New York College at Cortland was founded in 1868 as the Cortland Normal School, which included among its earliest students inventor and industrialist Elmer A. Sperry of Sperry-Rand Corp. fame.

Over the decades, the campus expanded and in 1941, by an act of legislature and the Board of Regents, the institution officially became a four-year college providing courses leading to the bachelor's degree. In 1948, Cortland was a founding member of the State University of New York.

Today, approximately 7,500 students are pursuing degrees within the College's three academic divisions — arts and sciences, professional studies and the school of education. Twenty-three departments with a faculty of more than 400 offer the SUNY Cortland student body 70 majors and 44 minors from which to choose.

The College's main campus covers 191 acres and includes 30 traditional and modern buildings. Fourteen of these structures are residence halls providing on-campus housing for approximately 3,000 students. Cortland also operates its Outdoor Education Center at Raquette Lake in the Adirondacks, the Hoxie Gorge Nature Preserve outside Cortland, and the Brauer Memorial Geological Field Station on the Helderberg Escarpment near Albany.

At Cortland, athletics are viewed as having an important role in the educational mission of the College. During the fall, winter and spring seasons, Cortland participates in 25 intercollegiate sports — 14 women's and 11 men's — in an attempt to provide a broad program which meets the needs, interests and abilities of its students.

The Cortland athletic program placed eighth nationally out of 430 colleges and universities in the 2003-04 all-sport National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors' Cup Division III standings. The award was formerly known as the Sears Directors' Cup from 1995-2002. Cortland is the only New York school and one of only six nationwide to finish in the top 20 each of the last nine years. Since 1989, the Red Dragons have captured 12 NCAA Division III team titles.

The College offers its student-athletes excellent athletic facilities. The newly-constructed on-campus stadium features two artificial turf fields. One field seats 6,500 spectators, the other 1,500. The Cortland football, field hockey, men's and women's soccer, men's and women's lacrosse and men's and women's track and field teams are among those who utilize the facility, which the New York Times called “...a new stadium worthy of a major university power.”

The Bessie L. Park Physical Education and Recreation Center, opened in 1973, features the Whitney T. Corey Gymnasium with a 3,500 seating capacity; the Olympic-sized Harriet Holsten swimming pool with gallery seating for 1,500; the Alumni Ice Arena, a facility which can accommodate 2,500 spectators; a 500-seat gymnastics arena, racquetball and squash courts, a wrestling room, modern athletic training facilities and the state-of-the-art Francis Woods Fitness Facility.

Nearby Clayton R. Lusk Field House, with its tartan-textured surface, is home for the indoor track teams, varsity practice sessions and recreational activities. Cortland’s soccer teams play on T. Fred “Prof” Holloway Field, which has lights for night contests and newly installed bleachers. The College also has 22 outdoor tennis courts and two outdoor basketball courts and boasts Robert H. Wallace Field (baseball) and Dragon Field (softball) as part of its 51 acres of athletic fields.
